Program Description

Content:

The following topics will be addressed:

- A rationale for nonaversive behavioral support.
- Behavioral assessment and functional analysis.
- Ecological manipulations for behavior change.
- Positive programming for durable results.
- Focused nonaversive strategies for rapid control.
- Emergency management within a non-aversive framework.
- Limitations of the nonaversive model.
- Identification of positive reinforcers.
- Assuring staff consistency in service implementation.

Specific Aims and Objectives:

- To train participants to provide sophisticated and professional levels of assessment services including the design of comprehensive, state-of-the-art support plans.
- To train participants in effective strategies to assure staff consistency in service implementation.
- To provide a written set of materials, forms, and procedures for the smooth administration and provision of behavioral services.

Program Design | The Summer Institute is designed to be an intensive hands-on experience. Training activities will include supervised, field based practicum assignments, feedback sessions, lectures, reading and writing assignments, practice exercises, follow-up telephone consultation and evaluation. Distributed practice with feedback and follow-up activities are specifically included in the design to insure generalization to the participants home agency.

Participants:

This advanced training program is designed for professionals who:

- Have responsibility for assessment and support planning.
- Have responsibility for assuring consistent staff service delivery.
- Meet requirements for providing behavioral services.
- Have mastery of the basic principles and procedures of applied behavior analysis.

The Summer Institute is an intensive experience:

- Attendance at all training sessions is mandatory.
- Each participant will be assigned a training case for whom services will be provided under practicum supervision.
- Each participant must conduct a thorough behavioral assessment and write an assessment report and recommended support plan according to the guidelines established during training. (See outline below.)
- Each participant must be prepared to train staff to carry out the support plan they have designed.

Significance and Outcome | Many service settings are unable to provide services to those individuals who require sophisticated behavioral supports to bring their severe and challenging behavior under control. The Summer Institute is designed to train competent consultants which will enable their home agencies to serve clients they may currently be unable to serve. The availability of a trained professional may mean the prevention of placement in a more restrictive setting, may eliminate the need for aversive procedures, or may allow the placement of an individual in a less restrictive setting. At the very least, the availability of a consultant trained through this program may mean that clients' needs are better met through the use of positive programming based on a thorough functional analysis of behavior. An evaluation plan will measure the impact of training on the home agency.
